Imitations.
To protect the public against Imitations and Fraud we caution all purchasers of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS
to see that the word CAPCINE on the label is correctly spelled. Do not allow some other plaster to be palmed off under a similar sounding name, with the assurance that it is the same thing or as good. Bear in mind that the only object such vender can have is the fact that they can buy imitations at the priceless than that of the genuine, and they hope by this substitution to gain a small additional profit.

For 1880
Commenced its Forty-Seventh Volume with the New Year, with all departments fully equipped and prepared to maintain its position as one of THE LEADING DAILY PAPERS OF NEW ENGLAND. THE WHIG AND COURIER receives all the telegraphic news of the Maine Associated Press, and has an extensive corps of correspondents throughout the State. The Publishers aim to make it in all respects a
First Class Family Newspaper,

IN THE POLITICAL FIELD
the WHIG AND COURIER will continue to advocate and uphold the Principles of the Republican Party, while claiming to be independent, in the highest and best sense of the word. Fearless and outspoken in the treatment of all public questions and firmly maintaining what they believe to be right, they will avoid intolerance and make their appeals to the understanding rather than to prejudice. The Presidential election and the important issues it involves,—the proceedings of Congress and of our State Legislature,—the great activity and improvement in all the industrial and business departments of the country, will make the coming year one of the most exciting and important in the history of the country, and the WHIG AND COURIER congratulates itself that the Republican Party of the Union will enter the year 1880 united upon the platform of Principles which that paper has steadfastly maintained while so many wavered.
THE WHIG AND COURIER will be sent by mail postage-paid, at the following rates, invariably in advance:
$8.00 per Year; $4.00 for 6 mos; $2.00 for 3 mos.

Are Now Matters of General Interest,
And are Attracting Much Attention,
BOTH FROM SCIENTIFIC AND MEDICAL MEN.
The Following Article will be Read with Great Interest, Especially by Sufferers from Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis and Indigestion.
Celery has only come into public notice within the last few years as a nervine, but scientific experiments and experience have proved beyond a doubt that it controls Nervous Irritation and periodic Nervous and Sick Headaches to a marked degree.
But a combination of the EXTRACT OF CELERY AND CHAMOMILE, which has been but recently introduced to the profession and the public by myself, has produced such marvellous results in curing nervousness and headache, and especially nervous and sick headaches, neuralgia, indigestion and sleeplessness, that it has excited public attention and newspaper comments, and, therefore, I give the following information to the public to avoid answering hundreds of letters of inquiry about them.
My Celery and Chamomile Pills, for the cure of headaches and nervousness, are prepared under my supervision, and are intended expressly to cure headaches, neuralgia, indigestion, sleeplessness and nervousness, and will cure any case where no organic disease of the brain or spinal cord exists. Hundreds of cases of many years' standing have been cured. No matter how chronic or obstinate the case may be, a permanent cure is morally certain. This statement is made after years of experience in their use in the general practice of medicine.
These pills are also valuable for school children who suffer from nervous headaches, caused by an overworked brain in their studies, and for all classes of hard brain-workers, whose overtaxed nervous centres need repair and sedation. Nervous tremor weakness and paralysis are being daily cured by these pills. They correct costiveness, but are not purgative.

REPORT OF CITY MARSHAL.

BANGOR, March 9, 1880.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I have the honor to submit to you my second annual report showing the expenses of the Police Department and a schedule of the work performed by the force during the municipal year of 1879-80:

Whole number of arrests, 546.
Number of tramps lodged, 433.
Four persons have been sent to the Insane Asylum.
Three persons have been arrested on an overseer's warrant and delivered to the keeper of the poor farm.

FINANCIAL.

	Cr.
Appropriations	$4500 00
Amt. cash paid City Treas by Police Court	788 56
" " " " County Treas	871 40
" " " " City Marshal	210 49
Amt. of cash received of State for Special Police	205 65
	$6576 10
	Dr.
Amt. of cash disbursed	$6521 58
Balance	$54 52

The number of places of business found by the night police unlocked and exposed and taken in charge by police, one hundred and nineteen:

On the East side,	59
On the West side,	60
Total,	119

Ten persons have been arrested on search and seizure warrants. They were each fined fifty dollars and costs. Six of the number appealed and gave bonds in the sum of two hundred (200) dollars, to appear at the February term of court. Three were committed to jail and one mysteriously disappeared.

The amount of liquor taken on search and seizure processes and destroyed is (180) one hundred and eighty gallons.

The work has been performed by the same number of men that was employed last year, and I take this opportunity to express my thanks to the men under me for their uniform good behavior and attention to their duties.

The force is divided into three day and six night police. The day police come on duty at 7 A. M., and go off at 6 P. M. Four of the night police come on duty at 6 P. M., and go off at 4 A. M. The remaining two night police come on at 9 P. M., and go off at 7 A. M.

The number of tramps or public lodgers that are prowling through our State is alarming; and it is a serious question, what is to be done with them? They make it their business to travel from place to place in our State till they have made their rounds, which, when accomplished, they start out again, generally, changing their names. Some of them are arrested by officers of the law and are dealt with accordingly; but the most of them continue their tramping, living upon the public either by begging or stealing. Many of them are vicious and therefore dangerous to be at large. Now the question is, what are we to do with them? It seems to me that there should be a more stringent law regarding this class of criminals. Providing the law, recently reported at Augusta, in reference to this question, is passed, it will rid the State of a large proportion of this nuisance.

In closing my report I desire to express my thanks to His Honor Mayor Wm. H. Brown, and the committee on police, and also to the other members of the City Government, for the courtesy and uniform kindness extended to me on all occasions connected with our official intercourse.

My thanks are also due to His Honor the Judge, Recorder N. S. Perkins and City Solicitor Vose, for assistance always freely given.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM F. REED, City Marshal.

REPORT OF THE TRUANT OFFICER.

Bangor, March 11th, 1880.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen—I take this opportunity to say that I think the attendance at most of the public schools during the year past, has been very good. No complaint has come to me of truancy or absence that has not been satisfactorily accounted for.

In quite a number of instances I have been called to enforce discipline. Generally an introduction to the Police Station has had the desired effect upon them in restoring them to order. In other cases I have been obliged to take them before the judge.

I do not think strange at all that among so large a number of scholars that boys should break the rules of the school-room. But in every instance that has come to my notice a suitable remedy has been properly applied and the truant reclaimed.

The whole number of notices served on parents of truant children, 168; Arrested and discharged on promise of amendment, 15; For disturbing schools and fined, 2; Found loitering in the streets and returned to school, 8.

For general attendance and condition of your schools, I refer you to the School Agent, Mr. Byron Porter, who will please accept my thanks for many favors shown to me during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM F. REED,
Truant Officer.

REPORT OF THE CITY PHYSICIAN.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen—It is not a difficult task for the City Physician to annually report, as is the custom, the exact amount of work performed by him in the eleven preceding months; but to accurately present the condition and necessities of the pauper department from a medical standpoint is neither a small, an inviting nor a satisfactory duty; it is no small duty, for the unsupplied needs of the sick poor are many; uninviting and unsatisfactory, for little attention is paid to such a statement of facts. Most of the suggestions made by past City Physicians have been merely heard, but no longer thought of; while at some later day when action became absolutely necessary, the subjects would again be taken up, considered and some conclusion arrived at.

I will first briefly report the services rendered by me up to March 1st, 1880; and it should be remembered that this covers only eleven months of the municipal year, for some three or four weeks elapse between the date of the annual report and the time when the new City Physician commences his attendance upon the patients of the city:

Number of visits to Alms House, 143; to out patients, 387; office visits, 159; prescriptions given at Alms House, 1235; to out patients, 557; to office patients, 135; cases of confinement at Alms House, 4; among out patients, 2.

In the latter part of December, at the request of the School Committee, I vaccinated one hundred and fifty pupils of the public schools. At that point the vaccination was discontinued by instructions from the same source.

It has happened to me to return a somewhat greater number of deaths than for several years past. The causes assigned were as follows:

Pulmonary consumption, 7; chronic cerebral disease, 3; infantile convulsions, 2; diphtheria, cancer of stomach, chronic inflammation of kidneys, diabetes mellitus, puerperal fever, acute pneumonia in the ninth month of pregnancy, each one.

Nine of these deaths occurred at the Alms House, and nine among out-patients. Of these, eight were females, ten males.

The disease to which the largest number, seven, succumbed, was pulmonary consumption. Five of these were in the last stages when first seen, and two were examples of what is known as "galloping consumption." Two infants, apparently well, were seized with convulsions and died almost immediately. Several of the others, deceased, were in a moribund condition, and beyond the reach of medical aid before I saw them; yet their deaths are included in this record from having belonged to that class of persons under the city's charge.

For some years it had been urgently recommended that water-closets be provided at the Alms House in the main building, on account of the infirmities and advanced age of many of the inmates. During the past Summer this long-needed addition was made, and if for no other than sanitary reasons an expense has been incurred which should not be regretted.

During the months of June, July and August, a nurse was employed to assist in caring for the sick females and the large number of young children at the Alms House. Her services were acceptable so long as they lasted.

I believe that by far the most important feature of this annual report would be omitted, if I failed to direct the attention of the City Council to several, at least, of the deficiencies which have long existed, and the changes and additions which should be made, at the Poor House. In the first place, it is very necessary for the welfare of the inmates that there should be a competent nurse for each, the male and the female, side of the house. Unless actually competent they would supply no deficiency, for among the inmates there is no lack of incompetent and inefficient persons. The suggestion of the need of two nurses will not seem so extravagant when it is remembered that the inmates number at different times of the year, from ninety to one hundred and ten; that a large proportion require medical treatment the greater part of the time; a considerable number, even throughout the whole year; that many are disabled by old age, poverty and intemperance. At present, there is not one able-bodied man cared for, by the city, at that institution; and of the females none are really available, for the few who are in good physical condition are either occupied in caring for their own children and those of others, or are employed in doing general housework. Further, hardly a dozen persons whom I have treated there can read, and this has, at times, prevented some of them from receiving the benefit of suitable medication, since it did not seem to be safe to allow them to depend upon their memories alone, as to the directions. It may be said that all such matters should be attended to by the family of the Superintendent and the Matron. In answer to this, let me say, that from a year's observation of their varied and numerous duties, it has seemed clear that their time and thoughts were sufficiently taxed with such cares and responsibilities as pertained to their own particular departments, but notwithstanding all this, they have, by their kindness and faithfulness, contributed largely towards lightening the burden of the attending physician, and in adding to the comfort of those in their charge.

Another subject worthy of consideration is that of bedsteads and mattresses. All the bedsteads owned by the institution are wooden and with few exceptions accommodate two persons; they are very old, unsightly and treacherous structures; they require frequent cleansing and occasional repairs; they occupy more room than is desirable and detract much from the general neat appearance of the establishment. Instead of mattresses, either old feather beds or sacks of straw are used. To make it evident that such accommodations are improper and uncomfortable for persons confined to their beds from old age or sickness requires only mention. All well conducted hospitals are provided with movable, light, iron, single bedsteads. They last indefinitely; can easily be cleaned, and are agreeable to the patient and convenient for the physician and attendants. Such inmates, at least, as are unable to be about or sit up any part of the twenty-four hours should be furnished with accommodations better adapted to their unfortunate condition.

In various parts of the Poor House, but especially in that portion called the "old part," the atmosphere is always close and disagreeable, and this is not to be attributed to deficient cleansing, so far as that can be accomplished by the scrubbing of floors and walls. The chief reason is the defective ventilation of the rooms and the great facility with which straw sacks and feather beds absorb and emit impurities derived from the air and other sources. A further cause may be found in the uncleanly habits of some of the inmates. The proper means of avoiding this condition of affairs are simple and deserving of attention.

Though by no means all, these are the topics which now occur to me, as preeminently requiring some considerations on part of your Board.

From conversations with different persons it has been made evident that the amount of work annually done by the City Physician is not generally known, and in view of the salary which the City Council regards as an equivalent for his services, it would appear that they too failed to appreciate the same fact. My records will show about $2,000 worth of business done for the City at a salary of $200. This amounts to some sixty cents for twenty-four hours services, which is less than the common laborer receives for ten hours work. Further, all medicines furnished to paupers outside of the Alms House are at the expense of the medical attendant. Again, it is the custom to call upon the City Physician to give his time and services without additional compensation to paupers of other towns, but supported in Bangor by those same towns. At certain times in the year these bills for medical attendance are settled, and paid into the City Treasury. It seems no more than fair that such receipts should be added to the Physician's meagre salary.

The ordinances relating to this department will bear some revision, and having in a few words pointed out the most conspicuous defects contained therein, I can only hope it may prove of some advantage to my successors.

WILLIAM C. MASON,
City Physician.

National Republican Convention.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago on Thursday, the 3d day of June next, at 12 o'clock noon, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice-President at the next election. Republicans and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia to represent them in the Convention.

Keep The Lights Turned On.

No such astonishing exhibition as that made by Alonzo Garcelon in the hands of an Investigating Committee, has ever before been seen in this country. His testimony has painted himself blacker and blacker with every additional utterance, and he has confessed to irregularity and lawlessness far exceeding all that has been charged upon him by others.

We notice that the Associated Press report says that his examination closes the labors of the Committee, all but making up their report. We think this must be a mistake. At any rate we earnestly hope that the investigation of the gigantic conspiracy is not to end at this point. The Committee have undoubtedly developed a vast amount of rascality, but the bottom has not yet been reached, and the people will not be satisfied until the lights are turned on to every phase of the wicked business.

The public want to see other leading conspirators put on the stand, and they demand that a more careful and thorough scrutiny of the case be made than has been possible during the labors of the legislative session. It seems to us that the Investigation Committee should be authorized to sit after the adjournment and instructed to sift the whole matter to the bottom.

THE BLAINE BOOM.

A NEW CHAMPION IN MINNESOTA.

The Saint Paul Pioneer-Press, heretofore for Sherman, has come out for Blaine, and says: "Blaine would give the country a strong, vigorous, and we are satisfied, a pure administration. He has that honorable ambition to play a great role in the history of his country which is a sufficient pledge that he would fill that high place in such a way as not only to justify the enthusiastic admiration of his friends, but the applause of history. The best thing the Northwest can do is to present a solid front at Chicago for Blaine."

BLAINE'S POPULARITY IN CONNECTICUT.

Judge H. Lynde Harrison, of New Haven, Conn., who takes a prominent part in all the Republican State Conventions in Connecticut, and has frequently been its chairman, in speaking with a reporter recently of the course which the Republican State Convention will probably adopt when it meets on April 7, in New Haven, said:

"It is safe to assume that the Connecticut delegation to Chicago will not be instructed for any one. It ought not to be. Connecticut never does such things with her delegation. It is also safe to assume that the delegation will not be united for any one, so long as there are rival candidates before the Convention. A Connecticut delegation is always more or less divided. I am satisfied that a majority of the Connecticut Republicans prefer Blaine for their first choice, and if the delegation is fairly chosen a majority will be for him at first and so long as he has a reasonable chance for the nomination."

MICHIGAN FOR BLAINE.

Only a few weeks ago Michigan was set down as a sure Grant State. To-day it is practically solid for Blaine. On the 26th of February the Detroit Post and Tribune asked the subscribers to send in by postal card their voluntary opinions on the question of Presidential candidates. Up to last Wednesday it had received 1,935 responses and of these 1,518 were for Blaine, 242 for Grant, 32 for Sherman, 11 for Washburne, and the rest scattering. Blaine has nearly five times as many supporters as Grant and nearly four times as many as all the other candidates combined. Many subscribers send remonstrances against the nomination of Grant, a few saying that they would not vote for him under any circumstances, but no one sent an objection to Blaine. This corresponds exactly to the expressions which were made in the Tribune's Pennsylvania canvass. The Post and Tribune says that the results show that the "Republicans of Michigan are overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of James G. Blaine for the Presidency. He is the first choice of at least three-fourths of the party, and the second choice of a large majority of the others."

BLAINE THE REAL SECOND CHOICE OF VERMONT.

[From the Burlington, (Vt.) Free Press.]

Some of the Republicans who do not want Blaine, and who find fault with the candidacy of General Grant, might perhaps profitably reflect that nothing but the Grant movement has thus far prevented an overwhelming demonstration for Mr. Blaine. If General Grant's name had been withheld from the Pennsylvania Convention that body would unquestionably have strongly pronounced for Blaine, and the delegates would have been instructed and the unit rule enforced in behalf of the Maine candidate. If in the New York Convention General Grant's name had not been presented, the great weight of the Empire State would now, with that of Indiana, be adding momentum to the Blaine "boom." But for the Grant men in the Vermont Convention it would have indicated distinctly the preference of a majority of the delegates for Mr. Blaine as their second choice, and Vermont would to-day be practically counted among the Blaine States.

THE POPULAR CURRENT.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The Tribune's canvass of Pennsylvania upon the Presidential question showed an overwhelming preference for Mr. Blaine among the working Republicans of that State, which the supporters of Gen. Grant have been vainly trying ever since to explain away. A canvass by a business firm in Washington of a large number of weekly newspapers scattered all over the country—a canvass made for purely business purposes as the Tribune explained at the time—showed precisely the same thing. Still another canvass has now been made of an entirely different character, with results no less significant. At the town meetings in New Hampshire efforts were made to elicit the preferences of Republicans. About 3,000 of these votes have thus far been reported, of which Mr. Blaine received 1,890, General Grant 693, and Senator Edmunds 524. Mr. Blaine gets nearly three times as many votes as General Grant, and has an actual majority over all, if the ballots which merely declared "for the nominee of the Chicago Convention" are left out of consideration. In the Tribune's Pennsylvania canvass Mr. Blaine has received more than four times as many votes as Grant; in the Washington canvass above referred to the number of newspapers reported to favor Grant was barely one-third of the number favoring Blaine. Facts like these are not mere coincidences. They indicate a strong current in popular sentiment.

THE COUNTING-OUT BUREAU.

[From the Kennebec Journal]

The Hale Investigating Committee unearthed a piece of evidence on Saturday, which goes to prove that there was a regular bureau established, with headquarters at Augusta, to carry forward the work of counting out the Republican majority elected at the last September election. The head centre of this bureau was outside the State House. In the examination of ex-Governor Garcelon, in regard to the Cherryfield case, he was questioned as to whether he had any knowledge of a self-constituted bureau of Fusionists, who made it their business to discover defects in Republican returns, to procure affidavits, in fine to carry forward in a systematic manner the work of defeating the will of the people as expressed at the polls. The ex-Governor promptly answered that he knew of no such bureau. He was then asked if he knew that Eben F. Pillsbury had any complicity in the counting-out business. To this Garcelon replied that he did not.

Upon this Mr. Hale produced an affidavit, duly made and signed, in which it was charged that one of the three selectmen of Cherryfield who signed the election returns was an alien. On the back of this secret affidavit appears the following words:

"BRO. PILLSBURY: The case cited is Bouvier p. 11. Probably Bouvier's Institutes.

Truly,
CHARLES N. HERSEY."

This affidavit was made up in Washington county, the same county in which Mr. Leavitt distributed blank returns. It is dated Nov. 14, three days before the date at which Garcelon declares the returns at the State House were first opened,—a fact which goes to show that somebody had seen the Cherryfield returns before the affidavit was made, notwithstanding what Garcelon said about the returns not being opened until the 17th.

The point however to which we invite special attention is that this affidavit started in Washington county, that thence it went to Bangor into the hands of a prominent democratic lawyer of that city, and finally rested in "Bro. Pillsbury's" bosom until it was used to aid in counting-out a Republican Representative and Senator. It with other evidence before produced, shows that there was a counting-out bureau established by the counting-out conspirators with "Bro. Pillsbury" for a head centre at Augusta, and with agents like Leavitt, Drisko, Hersey, Sawyer, reaching out into all the counties of the State to aid in forwarding the counting-out villainy. Garcelon's word that "Bro. Pillsbury" had no share in the conspiracy is good for nothing against the endorsement on this Cherryfield affidavit, which speaks volumes of the men and the methods by which the larceny of the State government was attempted.

The two interested auditors of all the speeches in the Senate on the Fitz John Porter case, were Gen. Sherman and Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, who, in 1865, surrendered his Confederate army to Gen. Sherman. Gen. Johnston holds that Porter was unjustly convicted, and that the pending bill for his relief ought to be passed, while Gen. Sherman holds just the contrary. It is a noticeable fact in regard to this case that nearly all of the Union Generals justify the sentence of Porter, while the Confederate Generals are nearly as unanimous in excusing him and urging that he should be restored to the army. The Democratic party in Congress has seen fit to champion the case of Porter, and their course is consistent with their conduct during the war in sympathizing with the rebellion.—Lewiston Journal.

The Boston Transcript says: "It is now well established that the Fusion State officers in Maine adopted early measures for correcting all the mistakes and informalities in the returns from Fusion towns, while refusing the Republicans access to the returns from the towns in which Republican officers may have failed to comply with every legal requirement. The case is made out against the Fusionists as stated by the Republicans. The result has been that in the recent town and city elections honest Democrats have cooperated with their former opponents, who have swept the board from one end of the State to the other."

PERSONAL. The Boston Journal of Monday had the following notice of a gentleman whose good qualities have earned the warm regard, as his misfortunes have commanded the sympathy, of hosts of friends throughout the State:

Mr. Wilbur F. Crawford, of Brunswick, Maine, who was for several years one of the most efficient clerks on the route between this city and Bangor, was so severely injured by an accident on the Eastern Railroad two and a half years since that he was confined to his room for two years, and is now only able to stand on crutches because his body is encased in a plaster cast. He is a young man, but by the accident in the line of duty he is disabled for active pursuits for life. Mr. Crawford is a candidate for the Brunswick Postmastership, which is now vacant. He is indorsed by all his superiors in the postal service.

We notice that the President has nominated for the office J. W. Crawford, a member of another family, although he is said to have had small local support, while Wilbur F. was recommended by over two hundred of the best citizens. It seems to us that there could hardly be a stronger case than his.

STETSON AND ITS PEOPLE.

We recently made an item in reference to a visit to their old home in Stetson by Mr. Shepard, editor of the Danvers, Mass., Mirror, and his amiable sister. Since his return to Danvers, Mr. Shepard has published in the Mirror an editorial account of his visit to Maine, from which we copy the following interesting reminiscences of

STETSON AND ITS PEOPLE.

And here a few words about the town, and the people who abide now and have in the recent past lived in Stetson,—the town where we were kissed and spanked, and laughed and cried, learned the alphabet and something more, and quarreled and did all the mischief a youngster is capable of between 0 and 14 years of age. The township is six miles square, located in the western part of Penobscot county, "Stetson Corner" being eighteen miles west from Bangor. It was settled in 1800 and named for the original proprietor, Amasa Stetson, of Dorchester, Mass. The inhabitants in 1870 numbered 913, and the valuation was $269,735.

Riding through the town and passing the old homes of the Hill and the Rogers boys; the saw-mill where Governor Davis worked years ago; the grist-mill where Capt. Maxfield, of the Governor's Staff, used to grind the wheat and the corn; the tannery of the Plaisteds; the former residence of Hon. Lewis Barker on an eminence back from the road, and the little office at the road gate where the law, if not the gospel, was expounded; where the leading journals of the country were received daily and their contents reviewed and discussed; where the dangers and trials of the Nation and of parties were debated, and thoughts and plans evolved that being spoken in a dozen States, including New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, made the proprietor of that little office one of the most popular orators of our country in the years from 1862 to 1872; where Frank Davis, after a two-mile walk in the early morning, carrying his dinner with him, went to study and learn the lessons in law and government which have since marked him as a fit man for Representative, Senator, and Governor;—it was passing these scenes and many more, and the memory of meetings with old friends which we had enjoyed at Augusta, that perhaps suggested the review, which we propose here to make, of the men in official station in Maine to-day, who within a few years have been citizens of that little town of Stetson. They are the following:

Governor Daniel F. Davis, now a citizen of East Corinth, who was born in Freedom and went to Stetson about 1853, when about ten years old, and lived there until 1870, going to the war from there, and getting his education, reading law, and marrying in the town.

Hon. Lewis Barker, member of the present Executive Council, was born in Exeter, settled in Stetson in 1841 and lived there till 1875, serving four terms in the House and two in the Senate, one or two years as Speaker of the House, and in various other official stations in the State. Mr. Barker was four years a member of the Republican National Committee, from 1868 to 1872, a delegate to the National Convention at Chicago in 1868 which first nominated General Grant for President. In 1871 he moved to Bangor and established there a law office, with his son L. A. Barker as partner.

On the Governor's Staff as Aids-de-Camp, are Hollis B. Hill, of Auburn, a native of Stetson; J. D. Maxfield, of Dexter for many years a resident of Stetson; and Dr. W. S. Howe, of Pittsfield, Surgeon General, formerly a Baptist preacher at Stetson, and captain of a company from that town in the late war.

In the Senate are John Rogers, a native and always a resident of Stetson; and Levi C. Flint, of Monson, formerly a citizen of Stetson, and now Senator from Piscataquis county.

In the House are James Rogers, native and resident of Stetson; and Thomas M. Plaisted, native of Stetson, and now a citizen of Lincoln, in Aroostook county.

Corydon M. Laken, Steward and Treasurer of the State Insane Hospital for six years past, is a Stetson man.

This, it seems to us, is quite remarkable as the representation of one small town, direct and indirect, at one time in the government of a State, and we much doubt if a parallel can be found in that or any other State. The town sent to the war one in nine of its entire population, and is credited with one if not two Generals, J. B. Hill and H. M. Plaisted, one Colonel, half a dozen or more Captains, several Lieutenants, and at least one "Corporal."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"Dark Eyed Bettie" is the first to greet us, among the musical visitors commended to our care by Oliver Ditson & Co. Not a real "Bettie," however, but an agreeable song and chorus, and is accompanied by "Mallie's Wish," another song and chorus, and a four-part song, by Charles Mackey and J. B. Grant, entitled, "What is the meaning of the Song?" There comes also an easy "Pink Waltz," a melodious march, called "Through the Wood," and the "Primavera Polka," a lively, guitar-music like piece, by one of the "Spanish Students." Also a wide-awake number of Ditson's Musical Record, with six pages of good music, which, with the reading matter, make it an agreeable weekly paper.

OVER $2,200 STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR.

HE DREW THE STATE MONEY "TO HAVE IT HANDY."

An ex-Governor Disbursing State Money Without Receipts.

Confession That He Acted Unlawfully.

FOGG AND FOSTER ADVISED HIM.

The "Second Jackson" Collapsed.

A HUMILIATING SPECTACLE.

Garcelon Tells About Black's Guards.

AUGUSTA, March 16. Ex-Governor Garcelon was again before the Committee this evening. He testified that his term of office expired Jan. 7. Capt. Black had charge of certain men at the State House. Do not recollect giving him any special authority. I called upon several gentleman to furnish a list of men for public duty. They were said to be enlisted as military; this I rejected and said I wanted them sworn in as police. Did not know that the law of last winter limited the night watchmen to two men. We had a police force of some thirty or forty men outside of Black's men. Black was under the direction of Leavitt up to Jan. 8. All these men were paid.

Garcelon Disbursing State Funds After His Term Expired—He Admits it was not Lawful.

Q.—Have you paid any bills of the so called Fusion Government since.]

A.—I have paid bills since Jan. 7.

Q.—Then you did it as a private citizen?

A.—Perhaps so.

Q.—Was it not your bounden duty to dispossess yourself of the State's money when your term of office expired!

A.—I could not do differently in this matter, as I felt head for these bills. I did pay the bills from the State's money in my hands. Those men wanted their pay.

Q.—Under what law did you claim to pay them, you having retired from the Governor's chair, with a State Treasury running?

A.—None perhaps except commonsense. Certain men had put in charges for services and I felt under obligations to pay them.

Fogg and Foster his Advisers.

Fogg advised him to pay the bills and he acted under the advice of Council. He would admit that on the whole perhaps he did not act strictly under the laws. Confessed to drawing warrants on appropriations outside of matters for which appropriations had been made. He supposed that was the practice under all administrations. Certainly it was under his. Mr. Foster, of the Council, who has been connected with the government many years, said it was done.

Black's Prison Birds.

Q.—Have you ever seen the roll of Capt. Black's men?

Ans.—Never. They were paid by Leavitt, Adjutant-General.

He was here shown a list of jail and State Prison convicts who had served in the State House police under Black, among whom he recognized the name of one whom he had pardoned out of State Prison.

Garcelon's Vouchers for Part of The Money.

Q—Governor, have you brought your vouchers with you?

Ans.—I have done so.

Q—Will you produce them?

Ans.—I will,

They were shown to the Committee in substance as follows:

$80 paid R. W. Black, Jan. 7, for services of several men; $424 paid B. F. Lancaster, Jan. 2, for police force for protection of State House; $36 paid F. Rollins and others; $350 paid B. F. Lancaster, Jan. 8, for extra police force; $65 paid John Benson, Jr., for services in State House, from Dec. 28 to January 17; $281 paid B. F. Lancaster, Jan. 6, for special guard at State House; $25 paid C. H. Osgood for five days services; $14 paid D. B. Hartwell for watching at State House; $506 paid to B. F. Lancaster, January 26; (the bill being sent him); $191 paid B. F. Lancaster, Dec. 28th, for special policemen; $124 paid B. F. Lancaster, Jan. 1st; $300 paid B. F. Lancaster, Feb. 29th, for extra police under Gen. Chamberlain; $1,000 paid S. D. Leavitt, Jan. 7th; $18 paid H. Haskell, order of B. F. Lancaster; $80 paid M. M. Folsom for services at State House and as Assistant Adjutant-General from Jan, 1st to Jan. 18th; $67 paid Benj. Bunker, telegraph operator, for extra session to Jan. 20th; $63 paid L. D. Haskell Jan. 8th, for special police duty; $100 paid G. W. French, Clerk, in Adjutant-General's Office, Jan. 16th for staff and other duty.

Over $2,200 for Which He Has No Vouchers—Lots of "Sundries."

The whole amount of vouchers, $2,744. Garcelon said he received $8,000 from the Treasury; $1,000 was paid Leavitt and refunded, which left $5,000 in his hands to be disbursed. To account for this he had paid Gould $500, for which he had no receipt but would get one; so that there remains a balance of $2,256 which he proceeded to account for as follows, but for which he had no vouchers: $500 paid Gould; $465 on his memorandum paid to members of the Council; $106 paid to three gentlemen from whom he had taken no receipt, but could procure it; $100 for sundry items, express charges, &c.; $129 for money paid out for teams and sundries, the whole aggregating $1,300. Deduct this from the $2,236 leaves a balance of $956, which he said was in his hands ready to be paid over to the State.

Another $1,000 with no Vouchers.

Garcelon continued: "Shouldn't suppose that over $50 had been paid for detectives. This is all the money I have known of being paid."

Q.—Were not affidavits taken? Do you know anything about the employment or payment of these men?

A.—No, not to my knowledge.

A warrant for Pillsbury was produced for $1,000 and no voucher connected with it.

Garcelon—Suppose it was for printing. The understanding was that there should be vouchers.

Black, Martin and Morton's Military.

Q.—Did Black act as a common policeman?

A.—I suppose he did. He was to keep order and see that the men kept order. He had no special authority.

Q.—Do you not know that these men took an oath to obey Black?

A.—No.

Q—Had you no knowledge that these men signed a roll?

A.—I had none. Think Capt. Black, Dr. Martin and Col. Morton went to work getting up a military company. That did not meet my approval. Black's services were paid for the time he was here as a policeman, not under orders of the Mayor. He was what we call a captain or Chief of Police. Must be some foreman about all these matters. Members of the Council advised me to pay the bills. Lancaster approved the bills.

Garcelon and Necessity Know No Law.

Q.—Under what authority did you set up a State police?

A.—Did not know of any special law, but the old adage says "Necessity knows no law." Thought he had acted under the general statutes; that the Governor had authority to call on citizens, and looked at the statutes on the point at the time. Did not enter into the consideration of legal points; consulted counsel every step. If we acted illegally, why the people must rebuke us.

Q.—The law of last year says that the Superintendent of Public Buildings should employ but two night watchmen; did you know that, Governor?

A.—He enlarged the force under my direction. The police here took arms and went through a mock drill, but I wanted no show of arms and advised against it. Kept no list of men employed; had no personal knowledge of the men.

Took the Word of Lancaster

that the bills of men were correct. There was also a time keeper.

A receipt was shown of Lowell & Sons, Boston, for $42 for police badges and policemen's clubs, dated Jan. 5. Did not know of that. Suppose it had been paid by the Adjutant General's department.—Various bills paid amounting in the aggregate to $538 which he had paid out to different parties after his term of office had expired.

Garcelon Drew the States Money "To Have it Handy.

The various bank checks spoken of yesterday were shown, each bearing the name of Alonzo Garcelon individually as endorser. He said he drew the money to have it handy to pay bills. Think previously to this paid bills out of my own pocket.

Q.—Did you have fears that the payment of these checks would be stopped, that you were in a hurry to cash them?

A.—Never.

Q.—Where is the balance you have in your hands?

A.—Safe in its original package. Was surprised on reckoning up to find it came out so near.

Extra Pay Drawn by The Council and Mark Harden.

Accounts were then exhibited showing the large amount charged by the Executive Councillors for extra services. $857 was paid after Nov. 17, for clerk hire. Mark Harden, Messenger, had $500 extra on one occasion and $125 on another, in addition to his salary. Garcelon said Harden was very useful as a clerk. He had no knowledge of the extra work performed. The accounts were rendered in sort of general terms by the Council.

For visiting the State Liquor Agency several Councillors received $178.90. Garcelon said it was probably done during his absence. Large sums were paid to the Council for visiting the Reform School, State Prison and Insane Hospital.

Fogg's Auburn Striker.

Did not preserve pay rolls of men after they were settled with. They were made every two or three days.

Q—Mr. Haskell who was brought from Auburn was a pugilist was be not?

A. I do not know. He was recommended by Fogg.

More Tough Swearing—A Judas in the Camp—Garcelon's Esteem for Fogg.

In closing his testimony the ex-Governor was asked if he still said that he knew nothing while Governor of the forgeries, substitutions and other tampering with the returns?

A.—I say most emphatically I did not. I do not think there was a conspiracy or that money was concerned in it, but I think there was a Judas in the camp.

Q.—Do you care to name the one whom you suspect?

A.—I do not care to. He would say this one thing for his friend Fogg, that from Oct. 30 to Nov. 17 he was not at Augusta at all. Saw him to-day and advised him to come over and testify before the Committee. Said Fogg would be glad to come, but was afraid it would be a partial endorsement of the legality of the Legislature.

Q—You have no particular feeling in that direction, have you, Governor?

A.—No, sir.

Exit Garcelon.

At a few minutes before midnight the examination of Garcelon closed and this ends the labors of the committee with the exception of deciding upon their report.

McLellan's Threats of Counting Out.

AUGUSTA, March 16. This morning James S. and George F. Harriman, attorneys at law at Belfast, testified before the Investigating Committee that on November 8th, Attorney-General McLellan stated in the oyster house of F. W. Pote, at Belfast, in his presence and that of M. T. Marshal, that he had just been over to see Garcelon and stiffened him up, and he was then all right; that the Republicans had passed a law in 1877 making the Governor and Council a returning board, and they proposed to count the Republicans out. McLellan offered to bet $25 that Daniel F. Davis would not be the next Governor.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—Second Session.

Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

A motion from Chicago for a uniform bankrupt law was presented.

On motion of Thurman the resolution offered by Kellogg on Friday for the appointment of a committee to investigate certain scandalous newspaper charges against him was laid on the table.

Mr. Edmunds introduced a bill to fix a day for the meeting of electors of President and Vice President and to provide for and regulate the counting of votes for President and Vice President and the decision of questions arising thereon.

An amendment was offered which Mr. Blaine opposed and Mr. Edmunds advocated, and pending the debate the Senate adjourned.

House.

In the House the discussion of the Deficiency Bill was devoid of general interest. After discussion the committee rose and Mr. McMahon stated he would to-morrow move that general debate close on the Deficiency Bill. Springer stated when that bill was disposed of he would call up the contested election case of Curten vs. Yocum.

Resolution calling for information as to the withholding of pensions allowed to soldiers of the war of 1812, adopted. Adjourned.

STEALING A SENATORSHIP.

The Scheme to Oust Senator Kellogg

WASHINGTON, March 16. The Senate Committee on Elections to-day took action on the Spofford-Kellogg case, and by a strict party vote decided to report to the Senate two resolutions, the first declaring Kellogg not entitled to a seat in the Senate, and the second declaring that Spofford was duly elected and is entitled to a seat. The resolutions will be submitted to the Senate in a few days. The Republican members of the Committee will submit a minority report.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Kearney Sentenced to Prison and Fine.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16. The Police Judge this morning sentenced Denis Kearney to six months imprisonment in the House of Correction and to pay a fine of $1000. The magnitude of the sentence was a surprise to Kearney who had expected to get off with nominal punishment. Probably he will take the case to the Supreme Court.

Kearney Astonished and Exasperated—Appeal Filed.

Kearney received the sentence in silence, but his features expressed the utmost surprise and indignation. He had previously stated that he expected to get off with a small fine and after leaving the Court Room freely expressed his anger and chagrin, denouncing the penalty as outrageous and claiming he would beat it. Probably in the expectation of a nominal sentence his counsel neglected to demand a jury trial and having no recourse in that direction at once filed an appeal to the Superior Court. Expressions of gratification at the Judge's action are heard on all sides.

WEST WATERVILLE. Last Saturday afternoon the adjourned meeting of the town was held. The Report of the municipal officers had been printed and distributed at the previous meeting, but no action was taken thereon, because Town Auditor Small had certified that everything was "O. K." This did not satisfy Justice Ayer, a Bourbon Democrat, and he made a very windy argument against accepting such a report. He pronounced it illegal(?), and you may know of his qualifications in law when I pronounce him nearly up to "Old Dr. Bishop's" standard. The town took cognizance of his noisy harangue by accepting the report four to one. The town did not conclude its business, but adjourned to Saturday, April 10, at which time the Selectmen are to report on the feasibility of purchasing a town farm, and the cost of the same. A committee is also to report the cost of a good fire engine, either new or second-hand, the town having voted to purchase.——The operetta Red Riding Hood's Rescue, was given last Friday evening at Memorial Hall. FOR THE LADIES. Singing classes are fashionable in New York. Blue and pinks are a little brighter this season than last. One of the fashion writers declares that the new calicoes make one ache with their beauty. Dark blue cotton goods should be steeped in alum before they are worn, to avoid "crocking." It is found almost impossible to sell English prints when placing them beside American goods. Dresses and coats that were outgrown last year can be remodelled by adding a kilt plaiting around the bottom. The sleeves as well as the waists of dresses are now opened at the top and have plaited pieces inserted beneath the space left. "Artistic" bonnets, that is to say, bonnets in which everybody but a chosen few look like frights, will probably be generally worn only at garden parties and watering places this summer. Stereotyped phrases must not be used in answer to invitations, says fashion—that is, you must tell an original fib, instead of employing one that has done yourself and others good service before. Gimp of gold cord will be extensively used by the milliners, both on the inside and outside of bonnets this summer. The cheaper kinds will not be worth the few cents a yard that will be asked for them, but the richer sorts will wear well. The bonnets from the best milliners this year are distinguished by their quiet appearance. Heliotrope silk, trimmed with heliotrope, pale tinted violets or lilacs, and made in the simplest, closest shapes, is more fashionable than anything else. Shaded ribbons are liked for these bonnets.

OBITUARY.

Death of James Morrow Esq.

Quickly following our paragraph referring to his severe illness came the telegraphic announcement of the death of James Morrow, Esq., in Washington on Sunday last. Mr. Morrow was foreman of the Folding Room of the House of Representatives, and contracted his illness by working in the damp and poorly ventilated vaults in the basement of the Capitol which were used for the storing and folding of documents. The deceased was born in Bangor in 1822 and was 58 years of age. He was engaged in business here for many years, and shortly after the accession of the Democratic party to control of the House he received an appointment in the Folding Room. Mr. Morrow was an intelligent gentlement of pleasant manners and was very courteous and obliging to all who visited his department of the Capitol. We have pleasant recollections of his very cordial and polite greeting on the occasion of our last visit to Washington. He had gained many friends in his new home and will be sincerely mourned by a large circle in his native State. He leaves a wife, one son and two daughters, who will have the warmest sympathy of all in their sore affliction. A despatch states that the remains will be placed in Oak Hill Cemetery, Washington prior to their removal to this city.

The New Opera House.

Mr. Hersey received yesterday morning the plans of the new Opera House, and steps are to be taken at once to procure the necessary funds to erect a building suitable for theatical entertainments and a building that will be an honor to the city. The building when completed will be as follows:

First Story—Two stores on Main street about 22 by 57. Back of these stores under the auditorium, will be divided into dressing rooms, green room, traps, &c., with two entrances to stage.

Second Story—On this story is the auditorium seating 568, approached by a staircase twelve feet wide from Main street and a side entrance on Union street six feet wide; also a side entrance in the passageway six feet wide, making three large exits. There will be ample standing room around this auditorium six feet wide. Two staircases six feet wide up to the balcony and dress circle, ladies and gents waiting rooms, check room for clothing, ticket office off the main vestibule, two private boxes off the stage. The stage will be 50 feet wide with a depth from the footlights of 37 feet. The curtain opening will be 30 feet wide and 32 feet high. In the front of the auditorium on Main street will be four offices for business purposes.

Third Story—In this story is the balcony and dress circle, seating 311, with standing room all around, two private boxes each side of stage and check room for clothing; also four offices in the front for business purposes.

Fourth Story—On this floor is the gallery seating 354 with standing room all around. The staircase to this gallery is separate from the rest of the house, with an entrance on Main street leading direct into the gallery. In the front of this story is a lodge or club room 37 by 43, with a banquet hall off of it.

The total seating capacity of the house is 1233 with standing room enough to accommodate 2,000 in case of necessity. The auditorium will be 58 by 70 front of curtain and 48 feet high in the clear, finished with ash and decorated with stucco and frescoing. The proscenium will be a beautiful piece of workmanship; it will be finished in stucco and color. The whole house is to be lighted by electricity. The theatre when completed will be second to none in the country. It is the intention of those who have the project in hand to put the entire property, including Opera House, stores, offices, &c., into a stock company, the capital stock to be forty thousand dollars, divided into four hundred shares of $100 each. Our citizens will shortly be called upon and we trust all that can afford will subscribe liberally to this enterprise, for an Opera House is something that Bangor needs.

Tony Denier's Pantomime Troupe.

Announcement is made elsewhere of the engagement by the Buskin Club of Tony Denier's great Humpty Dumpty Pantomime Troupe and Standard Company, numbering thirty artists, for two nights only, Tuesday and Wednesday, 23d and 24th insts. This great company, headed by George H. Adams, the original "Grimaldi," and having a large number of specialty artists, comes to us with a fine reputation, and will doubtless be greeted by large houses. The sale of seats, at popular prices, will commence at Bugbee & Co.'s on Saturday morning next. The following is from the Trenton (N. J.) American of Feb. 9:

"The performance at Taylor Opera House, last evening, was one of the best pantomime performances we have seen for years. It was 'Humpty Dumpty,' the late lamented Geo. L. Fox's great success, and it was equally as successful in Geo. H. Adams' (Grimaldi), as clown. In many respects Mr. Adams is superior to Fox, being younger, more agile, and has a great control of his features. Many new tricks and scenes were presented, which brought down the house. The company is a first-class one, the members being well up in their parts. The variety entertainment called 'Humpty's Kaleidoscope,' is unexceptionally fine, and received warm applause from the large audience. Mr. Denier, whose reputation as a clown is well known, presented Grimaldi with a valuable gold medal, this year, at Savannah, Ga., in token of his superiority, and, from his acting last night, we are constrained to admit that he was entitled to it. Taken altogether, Grimaldi is, we believe, the best trick clown on the American stage, and the performance is everything that is claimed for it."

An Old Bangor Worthy.

In the early part of the century, when the boys were asked by a stranger if there were a tannery in Bangor, they would reply: "Near the westerly end of the street or strait, called Joppa, is the house of one Zadock, a tanner."

Some of our oldest citizens recollect Mr. Zadock Davis; an exemplary man and good citizen. His dwelling, tannery, vats and shoe shop—for he was a shoe manufacturer as well as tanner—were upon the territory now occupied by Messrs. Cobb & Thorndike and the Gas Works. On the opposite side of Main Street, was a town pound of which he had the charge. He was the right man in the right place.

In the time which tried men's soles, he had charge of the guns of the Bangor Artillery, and brought them safely away from the Hampden battle field. This company did not shirk its duty. Under command of Lieut. George W. Brown—father of our excellent Mayor—it did creditable service, and only retreated when it was last upon the field and to have remained would have been folly. Mr. Davis thought the British had got of the guns only what they ought to have—the balls—and intended that they should have nothing more of them; he therefore took them into the woods to a place where he supposed they would be safe from the enemy. But the British olfactories were keen, and Mr. Davis' pains availed nothing; the guns were scented out and taken.

After secreting the guns Mr. Davis quietly returned to his business. As he had not been able to drive the enemy away he resolved to make the best of them, and when he saw the soldiers on their march from Hampden footsore and weary, he offered to sell them his shoes. Satisfied with them and the prices—which were large enough—they took them and went their way. His feelings for the loss of the guns were considerably mollified by the profits of his sales. Fortunately his property was not diminished by the British visitation.

Mr. Davis applied himself closely to his business, and all his ability, mechanical, mathematical, financial, rhetorical, and literary, were devoted to it. That he wielded a vigorous pen may be judged from the following effusions which he from time to time put before the public in the "Bangor Register."

IF THE COAT SUITS PUT IT ON.

"To such as promise and don't pay,
But forfeit promise keeping,
I have a word or two to say,
And then I must send Greeting,

Unless these lines soon take effect
And bring you to your bearing,
And each one comes and pays his debt,
And shuns the storm preparing.

And now if you'd take my advice,
You'll have it cheap as dirt, sirs;
You'll pay me promptly, if you're wise,
And then you shan't be hurt, sirs,

Else there'll be trouble in the camp
For each delinquent debtor;
Now, dear sirs, do not act the scamp,
But pay, for that is better.

August 7, 1816. ZADOCK DAVIS"

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS.

"This Notice, or this Proclamation,
May meet with no one's approbation;
Although my warmest thanks are tendered
To such as have me service rendered,
While those who have delinquent been
Are much reproved for their sin;
Are cautioned now to mend their ways
And pay me up in THIRTY DAYS
And then you'll find 'twill make a saving.
You'll save what lawyers a l are craving;
You'll save the Sheriff's lawful ration
And gain my hearty approbation.

March 11, 1819. ZADOCK DAVIS."

After he formed a business connection with Mr. Benjamin Weed, he carried his poetical talents into the firm, and stirred up the delinquents after this fashion. This was about the time Rev. Mark Trafton was an apprentice and Messrs. John Everton and John Hilferty were journeymen in the shoe shop.

"Davis & Weed, in time of need
Must work their bills by square root,
And those who may refuse them pay,
They'll leave them to go barefoot."

Jan. 8, 1824.

In December, 1824, Mr. Davis gave his debtors another touch of his quality:

"Davis & Weed have now agreed
To rouse delinquent debtors,
And those who've need to learn to read
They'll send them printed letters."

In January, 1826, Mr. Davis gave the delinquents another reminder:

"Davis & Weed are friends indeed
To those who pay in season,
But those who pay at Judgment day
Are asked to give the reason."

The subsequent effusions of Mr. Davis we believe were in prose.

THE REASON WHY. The tonic effect of Kidney-Wort is produced by its cleansing and purifying action on the blood. Where there is a gravely deposit in the urine, or milky, ropy urine from disordered Kidneys, it cures without fail. Constipation and Piles readily yield to its cathartic and healing power.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, administrator of the estate of Abial Shaw, late of Hampden, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration by about three hundred dollars.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant him power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the following described real estate of the deceased, (including the reversion of the widow's dower therein), as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz. The "old place by the school-house" in School District No 13 in said Hampden, containing about thirty-seven acres, to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.
